JACOBS ENGINEERING GROUP, INC., et al.

DEFENDANTS

ORDER

Plaintiffs filed a Motion to Compel requesting, among other things, that I order Defendant Jacobs Engineering Group, Inc., to produce all employee files, personal files, disciplinary files, reprimands, and training records of all employees who worked or advised on Job #110492.¹ Defendant, in its answer to Plaintiffs' discovery request and in its response to Plaintiffs' Motion to Compel, objects to the request and argues that the documents are irrelevant.² Later, the parties agreed that Defendant would submit the documents at issue to me, and that I would review them in camera and determine whether Plaintiffs are entitled to view them.³

I have received the documents, and after careful review, I am satisfied that the files obtain discoverable information. However, the parties have agreed that if I find that the documents are discoverable, a protective order can be entered. Accordingly, Defendant is directed to submit a proposed protective order within 10 days of this Order -- if it feels that one is warranted. Once a protective order has been entered, Defendant must produce the documents at issue to Plaintiffs.

IT IS SO ORDERED this 4th day of April, 2013.
